

THE ORATORY OF SAINTS

GREGORY & AUGUSTINE

TRADITIO | REVERENTIA | COMMUNITAS

Welcome to the Oratory of Saints Gregory and Augustine

The Oratory of Saints Gregory and Augustine is pleased to welcome you. We are an apostolate of the Archdiocese of Saint Louis faithful to the teachings of the Church and striving to grow as a family of faith through the celebration of the Traditional Latin Mass and other Sacraments.

In the First Book of The Confessions, the other great St. Augustine (of Hippo) wrote the following: "Thou hast made us for Thyself and our hearts are restless until they find rest in Thee." Whether you are curious about the traditional Latin Mass and interested in exploring its beauty, searching for a parish community where you and your family will feel at home, or seeking rest for your heart, we hope that the Oratory of Saints Gregory and Augustine can provide that respite for you.

Our bulletin serves to provide information about the weekly activities occurring here at the Oratory. Along with our website (www.stlouislainmass.com), the bulletin is your point of contact with the ever-increasing activities at the Oratory. I hope this will give you some sense of the grace of God, the love of Jesus Christ, and work of the Holy Spirit in our midst. I am delighted that God has brought you here! Oremus pro invicem!

—The Very Reverend Monsignor C. Eugene Morris, Rector

FROM THE RECTOR

The Lessons for the celebration of the Fifth Sunday after Pentecost remind us of the importance of the virtue of Christian charity which assists in harmonious lives with our brothers and sisters. When we are faithful to the commandments of God, we are truly keeping the greatest commandment: to love one another as we have been loved. This love of our neighbor comes from our shared dignity as beloved children of the Father in Christ our Savior. This shared dignity, enflamed by the love of God, has always animated Christian charity. Our service to our neighbors is not for good social order nor to draw attention to ourselves nor to curry favor with others, that they might someday take care of us. We share the love given to us; it is that pure and that simple. So too, the virtue of obedience provides the freedom to live this charity, compelling us to live the life Christ gained for us on the Cross, the life of mercy, redemption, and hope. We are recipients of these great gifts and in turn we must offer and share them others. This offering is not contingent upon like the person or event at times agreeing with them. As the Lord is charitable with all those He has redeemed, we can do nothing but follow His example. Be mindful of all this in this coming week of the many opportunities that are given to us to love others as we have been loved and to make that love concrete and manifest in our generous service to our brothers and sisters.

ELECTRICAL PROJECT UPDATE

We are in the final phase of the electrical project for the church. The last piece involves Ameren replacing two poles in our parking lot (between church and school) and updating the electrical panel in the rectory (which was required by Ameren). This final phase is scheduled to start on Monday, 21 July and due to be completed by Friday, 25 July. Because of the work that they are doing, we will not have power that week.

PLEASE NOTE: JULY 21 – JULY 25: the office will be closed (no one will physically be in the office; plan accordingly); the parking lot between church and school will be closed to vehicles AND pedestrians; we will have confessions at 11am and Holy Mass at 12:15pm – without lights and A/C.

PARISH HOMESCHOOL CO-OP

The True, Good, and Beautiful Homeschool Co-op is a well-kept secret in our parish. We have been established since the Oratory of Saints Gregory and Augustine moved to the current location in July of 2018. Our homeschool co-op serves our parish families with children aged 3-14 on either Tuesday or Thursday each week and we are now located at Little Flower School just down the street. Our parish ministry offers supplemental education in Literature, Music, and Art for our families. Each subject is taught from a traditional Catholic perspective focusing on Church history and our treasures of the faith. We provide Catechesis of the Good Shepherd (Level 1) and a Learning Center for ages 3-5 and space for the babies to play and mamas to sit. If you are interested in becoming a co-op family, more details are on the OSGA website: stlouislaticmass.com/about-us/homeschool-co-op

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY

If any parishioner feels the call to help out in this ministry, we would be very grateful; we are always updating our wish lists and could always use financial backing especially for all the art supplies. If anyone holds a special talent especially in the form of music, theater, sewing and would like to volunteer for us on a Tuesday or Thursday, we would be forever grateful. Even if you would just like to come and hold the babies or read to the 2-3 year olds, we may have a place for you. Please contact Cory Grizzle at co-op@oratorysga.org if you would like to become a co-op family or if you would like to volunteer or help out in any way.

NEED HELP MOVING

Our OSGA Homeschool Co-op is currently in the process of moving our belongings to Little Flower Parish. This past weekend, we moved everything over; but we will need as much help as we can get to move everything into the proper places. Many of the very heavy items are currently on the first floor and need to be brought to the third floor. If you can be of any help please contact Cory Grizzle co-op@oratorysga.org or 636-675-3721

MSGR WITT UPDATE

Msgr. Witt thought it would be prudent to update everyone on his health issues and his sincere gratitude to everyone in the community for their continued prayers. Two weeks ago, he had a colonoscopy which revealed inflammation in the descending colon from the ilium throughout. The previous medications were of no help. This past week he received his first transfusion of Skyrizi; but it may take up to four weeks for him to benefit from the effects. Two more transfusions will follow. God willing, he will be healthy again to return to the confessional. Thank you for your continued prayers.

SUNDAY CONFESSIONS

Sunday confessions have been suspended until further notice. We plan on announcing a new schedule after the Feast of the Assumption. As a reminder, we have confessions Monday-Friday from 11am until noon; and on Saturday from 7am until 8am.

SUMMER SCHEDULE

The Oratory's summer schedule began on Monday, 30 June 2025 and will conclude on Thursday, 14 August 2025. The Oratory will have one daily Holy Mass at 12:15 pm with Confessions at 11:00 am. No Adoration or Confessions on Wednesdays during the summer schedule. The Saturday and Sunday schedules will remain the same. The office hours during this time will be MON-THU from 8:00 am until 2:30 pm. The office is closed on Fridays during the entire summer. In order to assist the priests and the staff, please do not anticipate any parish business on Fridays. These scheduling changes allow the priests of the Oratory to take vacation and more importantly to make their canonical retreats. So too, the changed office hours will allow our dedicated staff time for vacation.

THE COMMUNION RAIL

There have been several incidents where the faithful have fallen from the communion rail after receiving Holy Communion. The severity of the injuries has varied, but sadly this has occurred far too often. I would ask everyone to be attentive to the step up AND down at the communion rail. Please be aware of those with any mobility issues and assist them if no ushers are present. If you bring someone new to the Oratory for Holy Mass, please remind them of the step at the communion rail or if you see someone struggling, please assist them. If the community is more cognizant of this at the time of communion it is hoped that the accidents can cease. Please pray for those who have fallen, especially for a swift recovery from their injuries.

BLESSED ITEMS

If you wish to have items blessed, please drop them off at the rectory (Mon-Fri, 9am-2pm) and include your name and telephone number. Please make sure all items are clearly marked. Once Msgr. Morris or Fr. Rennie have blessed the items Donna Mueller, Administrative Assistant to the Rector, will call you to let you know the items are ready for pick up (from the rectory office, Mon-Thu, 9am-2pm). Please drop off/pick up items at the front door on Dale Avenue, across from the field parking lot.

WHAT ARE STOLE FEES?

It is customary in the Catholic Church for the provision of the clergy to offer "stole fees," at baptisms, weddings, funerals, or the blessing of homes. These stipends form a part of the compensation for the clergy. Most priests don't want to sound greedy or ungrateful, so stole fees are not often mentioned or taught about, but because people are not aware of them, the faithful usually find it helpful to learn that they do exist (and that the priests are grateful for your generosity!).

These fees are not obligatory but are given as a sign of appreciation and support for the clergy's work. The Catholic Church emphasizes that these fees should not be seen as payment for sacraments, which are free gifts of God. The clergy at the Oratory are particularly keen to make clear that no one who asks for a sacrament will ever be denied for lack of a stole fee.

WELLSPRING OF TRADITION – July: month of the Precious Blood

The Abbey of Saint Louis and Saint Mary in St Louis County is a daughter house of Ampleforth Abbey in England. During a Latin Mass Society Lenten retreat day there a few years ago, Fr. Ambrose shared an anecdote about a visit to Glastonbury some years earlier. He was travelling with one of the Abbey's Ampleforth founder monks, Fr. Bede, who later was a founder of our own Oratory. As the two walked Glastonbury High Street, their black Benedictine habits became a target for a street preacher who cried out to them, 'Are you saved, brothers?' Being a very proper English gentleman, Fr. Bede was reluctant to engage the preacher in public. But the preacher persisted; and as he followed them his cries grew louder and showed no signs of abating. So Fr. Ambrose turned to him and—much to Fr. Bede's chagrin—cried out, 'We are indeed saved—by the precious blood of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ!' The preacher smiled broadly and cried back, 'Praise God, brothers!' Then he turned around and went happily on his way.

Many of us can relate to Fr. Bede's chagrin at his confrere's public exchange with the preacher. No matter how well or how poorly we might handle it in a moment of crisis, the shedding of a lot of blood, whether our own or someone else's, is disturbing. The almost daily images of the ravages of war and disasters remind us of that, and now come with warnings! Even though we all know that our redemption was won by the blood of Christ poured out on the cross, too much focus on that reality puts us off a bit. We're more comfortable with a sanitized image of that sacrifice that we find in art, music, and poetry. Flemish painters in the 15th and 16th centuries were particularly fond of representing the blood flowing from the cross or the triumphant lamb. Poets and theologians in many centuries have found a rich source of lovely imagery to mine. This beauty of the arts can cushion us with a gentler representation of the sacrifice of Calvary in the Mass. Although that beauty can be an aid to enhance our faith, and to point us toward our ultimate goal of true joy in a share of eternal life, Dr. Pierre Barbet's famous book Doctor at Calvary and similar studies make it all too clear that the historical event was not pretty.

Some of the more graphic depictions, such as those in classic Spanish Passion sculptures and popular devotions like the Five Wounds, direct us to think more about just how horrific the historical event was. As with many modern tragedies we witness in the media, most of us struggle to grasp how gruesome 'man's inhumanity to man' can really be. Yet Jesus submitted himself to some of the worst of it—such was the price paid for our sin. Why? If we're honest, we recognize that we can't find within ourselves the power to eliminate our own sinfulness. Only one greater than we could take on our humanity and effect that redemption. And it needed to be done in a manner that teaches us the destructive horror of sin, not only for ourselves but for the whole body of Christ. Jesus had to take on real human flesh and undergo our worst behavior to demonstrate that God sees our sins and yet forgives and loves us.

Devotion to the Most Precious Blood began in Spain. During the 16th, 17th, and 18th centuries it grew steadily out of devotion to the Holy Name of Jesus and the Sacred Heart. Later St. Gaspar de Bufalo spread it widely in Italy. In most countries a feast was celebrated on Friday after the 4th Sunday in Lent, as part of the devotions to particular aspects of our Lord's passion. Benedict XIV had new texts developed for the Mass and the Office, and in 1933 Pius XI extended the feast on 1 July to the universal Church as an annual memorial of the special Holy Year he declared for the 19th centenary of the shedding of Jesus's blood on the cross.

The Hebrew Scriptures (the Old Testament) speak often of the power of sacrificial blood. At the time of the Exodus, the Israelites were directed to smear blood from the Passover lambs on their doorposts to spare their children from the angel of death. In the desert, Moses anointed the altar and then sprinkled the people with blood from the animal just sacrificed to seal their agreement to God's covenant with Israel. Each year on Yom Kippur, the High Priest was directed to enter the Holy of Holies and sprinkle blood seven times on the mercy seat to effect the atonement of Israel's sins. A common thread of these and other examples is that to have its saving, affirming, and redeeming effect, the blood of the sacrifice had to physically touch the doorposts, the people, and the mercy seat. In the New Testament, St. John, St. Peter, and St. Paul make it very clear that Jesus himself insisted, and commanded His disciples to pass on to those who came after them, that we need to consume His very blood, the blood of the new and eternal sacrificial Lamb poured out on the cross. This we do in every reception of Holy Communion. Blessed Pope John XXIII, who had a particular devotion to the Precious Blood, and added it to the Divine Praises at Benediction, explaining his action in an Apostolic Letter:

Unlimited is the effectiveness of the God-Man's Blood—just as unlimited as the love that impelled him to pour it out for us, first at his circumcision eight days after birth, and more profusely later on in his agony in the garden, in his scourging and crowning with thorns, in his climb to Calvary and crucifixion, and finally from out that great wide wound in his side which symbolizes the divine Blood cascading down into all the Church's sacraments. Such surpassing love suggests, nay demands, that everyone reborn in the torrents of that Blood adore it with grateful love.

The Blood of the new and eternal covenant especially deserves this worship of latria when it is elevated during the sacrifice of the Mass. But such worship achieves its normal fulfillment in sacramental communion with the same Blood, indissolubly united with Christ's eucharistic Body. In intimate association with the celebrant the faithful can then truly make his sentiments at communion their own: 'I will take the chalice of salvation and call upon the name of the Lord. . . The Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ preserve my soul for everlasting life. Amen.' So as often as they come worthily to this holy table they will receive more abundant fruits of the redemption and resurrection and eternal life won for all men by the Blood Christ shed 'through the Holy Spirit'. Nourished by His Body and Blood, sharing the divine strength that has sustained countless martyrs, they will stand up to the slings and arrows of each day's fortunes—even if need be to martyrdom itself for the sake of Christian virtue and the kingdom of God.

If only Christians would reflect more frequently on the fatherly warning of the first pope: 'You know well enough that your ransom was not paid in earthly currency, silver or gold; it was paid in the precious blood of Christ; no lamb was ever so pure, so spotless a victim.' If only they would lend a more eager ear to the apostle of the Gentiles: 'A great price was paid to ransom you; glorify God by making your bodies the shrines of his presence.' Their upright lives would then be the shining example they ought to be; Christ's Church would far more effectively fulfill its mission to men. God wants all to be saved, for he has willed that they should all be ransomed by the Blood of his only-begotten Son; he calls them all to be members of the one Mystical Body whose head is Christ. If only all would be more responsive to these promptings of his grace, how much the bonds of brotherly love among individuals and peoples and nations would be strengthened. Life in society would be so much more peaceable, so much worthier of God and the human nature created in his image and likeness.
